

THINKING ALGEBRAICALLY

Closing prices of stocks are often reported with four decimal places. Though a tenth or a hundredth of a cent might not seem like much, if you own millions of stocks, those fractions of a penny really matter! Practice rounding the decimals below to the nearest hundredth.

$32.5219 \approx

$87.5292 \approx

$0.24381 \approx

$35.9961 \approx

$36.5332 \approx

$78.6669 \approx

$14.1222 \approx

$48.3452 \approx

$295.6349 \approx

$65.8486 \approx

$43.4521 \approx

$863.7987 \approx

$27.1658 \approx

$338.8948 \approx

$21.0015 \approx

$99.9949 \approx

$46.0096 \approx

$56.86089 \approx

$32.5672 \approx

$68.0063 \approx